From the office of Mr. Jacob Sholtis, Principal

August 29, 2017

Parents and Guardians,

I hope everyone had an enjoyable and relaxing summer vacation. We here at State Street are excited to begin what we know will be another successful year of school. I personally am looking forward to seeing all of our students back in action, continuing to build upon the foundation they have already received. I am equally as eager to welcome our new kindergarteners, as they set out on their adventure as Wyoming Valley West students.

Over the course of the summer, through working with our assistant principal, Mr. Wright, and my office staff, I feel confident that we are ready to open this building on a high note. This year, we will be implementing several new initiatives designed to enhance our students' experience. We will be launching a school-wide safety patrol through a partnership with AAA, putting in place an updated positive behavior support program, and helping to foster positive reading habits through the practice of Silent Sustained Reading (SSR) - just to list a few.

At any point throughout the year, should you have any questions or concerns regarding your child or other relevant matters, please do not hesitate to contact me. Through a solid partnership between the school and you, the parents, we can continue to ensure the best educational environment possible.

Thank you for your time and have a wonderful school year!

Sincerely,

Mr. Sholtis
